The Work of God as Creator: Job Meets the Creator

Job is the guy in the Bible who asked God every question that has ever been asked.

- Why do bad things happen to good people?
- Why do good things happen to bad people?
- How can God claim to be just if the wicked prosper?
- Why aren't my prayers being answered?
- If God is love, why is there suffering?
- How is it that I can't seem to find God when I need Him most?
- Is this life all there is? Is there eternal life?
- How can we possibly get there with our sin and God's holiness?

God didn't answer one single question that Job asked.

God asked Job some questions.

Job's confession: Job 42:1-6

- I know that you are God and I am not.
- I know that your purposes cannot be thwarted.
- I have made judgments about things I could never understand.
- Your ways are too wonderful for me to comprehend.
- I can't believe that you came down to speak to me.
- I repent of my sin and despise it.
- I have heard others speak of you, but now you have made yourself known to me.
