

A Revolutionary Faith:
A Purposeful Faith in a Meaningless World

Why does Life-Changing, Revolutionary Faith elude me? Maybe because . . .

- You do not really find the Word of God to be relevant to your daily life.
- You are actually more comfortable in your anxiety than in the presence of the Heavenly Father.
- You want to be in charge of your own life—you are not willing to give that to God.
- There are people and things that you love more than Jesus.
- You want a God who will join you in your plans—you don't really want One who asks you to join Him in His purpose.
- You feel uncomfortable in a church that is asking way more than what you are willing to give.

Revolutionary Faith: Lesson #7

Revolutionary Faith wants others to experience Revolutionary Faith.

It is in sharing your faith that you start to realize the power of God.
Acts 1:8

It is in the sharing of your faith that biblical truth is revealed to you.
Philemon 6a

It is in sharing your faith that you will experience all the blessings that Jesus has intended for you.
Philemon 6b
