

The Six Truths That You Must Teach Your Children, Part 3

Truth #3: Know what Jesus said – I am uniquely designed to be known by God and to know Him.

Truth #1 - Jesus loves me – even though I am broken and living in a broken world.

Truth #2 - Love Jesus back- This is life's highest calling and greatest joy.

Truth #3 – Know what Jesus said—I am uniquely designed to be known by God and to know Him.

The self-expressionist says,

- since there are so many people who see God in so many ways . . .
- it is proof of the fact that no one religious view is correct . . .
- and furthermore, it means that God will accept us in whatever way we choose (if we are sincere).

If God didn't reveal Himself to us, but made us guess how we might relate to Him—knowing that we would guess wrong—that wouldn't be loving.

Because God is love, He reveals Himself to us, so that we can know Him and know how to love Him.

He reveals Himself through:

- His creation,
- through our conscience,
- through our divine imprint,
- through His Son,
- and through His Word.

The greatest revelation of all, and the one that guides us and protects us from deception, is His Word.
